BIDALKIN

vaginal douche powder ( alkaline )

Antiseptic-astringent- mucolytic .

Composition:

Each 100gm. contains:

- Borax 17.6 gm.
- Alum 4.6 gm.
- Sodium bicarbonate 76.5gm.
- Chlorophyll 0.03 gm.
- Rose oil ad 100.0 gm.

Properties:

Bidalkin , when dissolved in water, renders a sweet-scented, alkaline solution which acts as a mild antiseptic, as an astringent, and as a mucolytic , and besides, it has a deodorant action.

Indications:

- Vaginitis and cervicitis.
- To alleviate soreness and itching in pruritus vulvae.
- To help removal of thick ,viscid mucoid and mucopurulent vaginal discharge in infections of female genital tract,specially chronic infections.
- To help other local antiseptics to come in close contact with the vaginal mucosa by removal of the intervening thick discharges.

Use in pregnancy:

Vaginal douches are contraindicated during pregnancy.

Mode of preparation:

1-2 teaspoonfuls of the powder to be dissolved in a litre of warm water (previously boiled).

Application and dosage:

To be used as a vaginal douche once or twice daily (according to the condition) at the start of treatment, to be reduced when improvement occurs to once or twice per week.

Packing:

Containers of 250 gm.